

CLARKSBURG, Mass. (Oct. 9, 2017) — One of the mobile communications industry's best and most user-friendly Apps leads a long list of returning marketing partners, as officials at East Coast Snocross (ECS) extend their appreciation and continue with preparations for the 2018 racing season.

Led by title sponsor Conx2share, the group includes presenting sponsors FXR (a three-year partnership) and

Woody's Traction Products

(celebrating their 50th anniversary in 2018);

New England Racing Fuel

Ingles Performance

daSilva Motorsports

C&A Pro Skis

EVS

and

PowerMadd

"We're very fortunate to have a great group of partners renew with us for 2018 and beyond," series owner Kurt Gagne said. "From the use of sleds and quads to warm outerwear for track officials, we have the support needed to be prepared for whatever conditions each site on the schedule presents."

"When Conx2share brought Live streaming to our series last season, it put our teams and partners in front of new faces. We're excited to see that streaming continue in 2018, and know it will expand our fan base. We'll work hard for all of our valued partners again this coming winter to ensure our core fans and new followers know all about their great products."

Returning title sponsor Conx2share is a digital communications App for smartphones and tablets. It allows users to post text, video or photos with ease, and also provides entertainment options. The good folks at Conx2share will again provide Live streaming coverage of all ECS points races in 2018, putting the series and its teams in front of a world-wide audience.

FXR, Wood's, Sunoco, New England Racing Fuel, EVS, CA Pro, and PowerMadd are the official sponsors of the global high performance racing series.
